

It's here at the Kinsley Library an Early Literacy Station (ELS) Self-contained educational computer for children, ages 2-8

Bring your child to the library and introduce them to educational computer games that teach skills and encourage independent learning.

THE EARLY LITERACY STATION

- enables young children to learn independently
- teaches education skills that put children on the path to a lifetime of learning
- supports school readiness and cultivates a love of learning
- has 60 top-rated educational software programs spanning 7 curricular areas
- has programs with carefully selected content that is fun and educational
- is not connected to the Internet and safe for children